

Travis W. Weber

August 19, 1985 - February 11, 2019

Beloved son and brother passed away unexpectedly Monday, February 11, 2019. Age 33 years. The son of Colleen (Cooper) Weber and the late William H. Weber, Travis was born August 19, 1985 in Saginaw, Michigan. He graduated from Michigan State University B.A. 2008 and Valparaiso University School of Law J.D. 2011 cum laude and was employed at Warner Norcross + Judd. Travis provided legal guidance on regulatory, legislative and political issues, helping clients navigate the legal complexities involving state and local governments. He helped forge relationships and pushed past legislative barriers to help individuals and businesses achieve their goals. His background as chief legal counsel to former Governor Rick Snyder placed Travis on the front lines of business, legal, administrative, political and policy issues facing the state. Travis was a key member of the state's leadership team and helped define policy priorities and provide strategic counsel to the Governor and executive office. Prior to his service to the Governor, he served as deputy legal counsel and senior policy advisor to the Speakers of the House of Representatives Jase Bolger and Kevin Cotter. Travis managed tax policy, public finance matters and drafted several pieces of legislation to implement reforms for the City of Detroit during its historic Chapter 9 bankruptcy including the Michigan Financial Review Commission Act to provide post-bankruptcy financial oversight to the city. He clerked at the U.S. District Court, Northern District of Indiana, Honorable Rudy Lozano, and was a member of the State Bar of Michigan and Board of Commissioners. Travis also served as a Board Member for Children's Hospital of Michigan Foundation and Northern Michigan University.

Surviving besides his mother Colleen are one brother, Jeffrey Weber; a niece, Adeline Grace Weber; Travis' grandparents, Bernard and Ruby Cooper; close cousins, Michael Kutsch and Jennifer (Geoff) Winsbro; several aunts, uncles, other cousins and many dear friends including a special friend, Amanda Elias. Travis was preceded in death by his father, William Weber, and by a cousin, Jeremy Cooper.

Cremation has taken place. A Memorial Service will take place 2:00 p.m. Monday, February 18, 2019 at Hopevale Church, 4873 N. Center Road, (corner of N. Center and Tittabawassee Roads), in Saginaw. Pastor Dan Davis will officiate. Friends may visit at Hopevale Church where the family will be present on Monday from 1:00 p.m. until time of service. In lieu of flowers, those planning an expression of sympathy may wish to consider memorials to Children's Hospital of Michigan Foundation.

Arrangements entrusted to The Snow Funeral Home, 3775 N. Center Road, Saginaw, Michigan, 48603. www.snowfuneralhome.net.

“ We are so sorry for your loss. My wife and I have been close friends with Travis for years. We remember all the great times together in Grand Rapids and MSU tailgates. Even though this is incredibly difficult, we can't help but smile reflecting on so many fun times over the years. Colleen, Jeff, and the rest of the family, our deepest condolences and you are in our prayers. We miss you Travis. Rest in peace. Love you, brother

“ I send my condolences to the family of Travis, you are all in my prayers.

Travis and I go back to high school at Arthur Hill where he was my classmate and friend. He always supported me and the b-ball team and was such a loyal fan. I never remember him being negative but always giving me positive words and words of encouragement. You don't forget people like Travis, they stay close to your heart. I remember the person he was just like it was yesterday and the last time I seen him was back then. Wow Travis, you will be missed. I was supposed to see you around or at our class reunion. Our high school graduation was not supposed to be our last time in each other's presence but God had other plans.

I am so deeply saddened and disturbed by you being gone but, thanks for all your support Travis. It certainly did not go unnoticed.

RIP Travis

“ I only knew Travis briefly during his time at Warner Norcross Judd as I was assigned to support him as his legal assistant. I immediately liked Travis very, very much and he impressed me as a very intelligent, kind young man. I looked forward to seeing his smile when he was in the office and getting to know him better. I am so profoundly saddened by his loss, as we all are at Warner. I wish peace and comfort to his family and all who knew and loved this special young man. Travis – I know you are now a bright shining star out in the heavens and I wish you peace. Janet Hess

“ To Mom Colleen, Brother Jeff, Niece Adeline and all the members of Travis' immediate and extended family...

Words fail to describe the anguish at Travis' passing. I want so badly to have him back next to me to help solve problems, exploit opportunities and help people, including the thousands we never met—but helped nonetheless. I want to kid him again about his crazy socks and his “Good Humor Man” summer wardrobe. I want him to tell me a joke or funny story, make me laugh with his (occasionally self-deprecating) humor, or just reassure me again that he would always have my back, and if he needed a wingman, I was his go-to guy.

I loved him like a son and a brother and I am heartbroken that he is gone. But...I celebrate his life, though way too short, as a life that lit the way for others, made us better people for having basked in his light. We were warmed by it when we were cold, found our way by it when the path was dark, and were inspired by it during good times and bad. Travis was the kind of man who put others first and made you feel that when you were with him, there was nothing more important than being in one another's company. I am a better person for having known him, and I will carry his memory and positive influence with me right up until the day I meet him in heaven.

I miss him terribly but I know his good works and selfless soul has earned him a life everlasting free of pain and full of boundless joy. Thank you all for sharing such an amazing son, brother, and uncle with all of us who consider him part of our family too. God bless and keep you in your time of grief and always.
